Brand footprints in virtual worlds: sample data

GEEIQ · Prepared for GamesBeat · Snapshot 7 Aug 2026

Figures are from the top Roblox search results and the YouTube Data API on the snapshot date. Counts describe what we found in the top results, not platform totals. Creator-made content is fan-made and unofficial.

KFC

Players built KFC on Roblox without KFC. KFC's own activity went to Fortnite instead (KFC Island, live since Aug 2024).

70.3m
combined lifetime visits, top KFC experiences (all fan-made)

600
fan-made KFC items found on the marketplace, search not exhausted

44.0m
visits to Escape KFC Obby alone (by MSL Games)

626.6m
views on the top KFC gaming videos we sampled on YouTube

Naruto

The IP giant. Fan demand at scale, no official presence found on Roblox, and this undercounts: the biggest anime games avoid the name entirely.

260.6m
combined lifetime visits across 6 fan-made Naruto experiences

146.3m
visits to Naruto War Tycoon alone

150
fan-made Naruto items found, none official

360.5m

Walmart

The commitment story. An official world live on Roblox, with a fan-made tail around it.

39.3m
visits to Walmart Discovered, Walmart's official experience

112.2m
combined lifetime visits across the 5 Walmart experiences we found

147
fan-made Walmart items alongside 2 official ones

396.4m
views on the top Walmart gaming videos we sampled on YouTube

Gucci

The luxury pioneer. Official items persist on Roblox, but no live official Roblox world today: Gucci Town ended in June 2024 and its current official worlds run on ZEPETO.

12
official Gucci items still live on the marketplace

138
fan-made Gucci items alongside them

41.2k favourites on Gucci Diamond-Framed Sunglasses (official era)

1.32bn
views on the top Gucci gaming videos we sampled on YouTube

For contrast: Louis Vuitton has no official Roblox presence and almost no fan footprint, 16 fan-made items and no experiences found.

The market behind these numbers
